

Explanatory Notes on Main Statistical Indicators

Culture

Cultural and Related Industries (Cultural Industry) means the collection of production activities that provide the public with cultural products and culture related products.

Collection of Books in Public Libraries means the number of books collected in independent libraries open to the public and run by all-level cultural bodies (excluding book rooms in cultural centers, and libraries not included in the cultural system).

Comprehensive Coverage Rate of Broadcast means the share of population who can receive broadcasting programs in the target area, calculated in line with the Statistical Standard and Method on Television and Radio Coverage of Population established by the National Radio and Television Administration, of the total population in the administrative area.

Comprehensive Coverage Rate of Radio means the share of population who can receive broadcasting programs transmitted with short-wave, medium-wave, FM and other radio transmission technologies in the target area, calculated in line with the Statistical Standard and Method on Television and Radio Coverage of Population established by the National Radio and Television Administration, of the total population in the administrative area, including the population covered by broadcasting programs from central, provincial, prefectural cities and county radio stations.

Comprehensive Coverage Rate of TV means the share of population who can receive TV programs in the target area, calculated in line with the Statistical Standard and Method on Television and Radio Coverage of Population established by the National Radio and Television Administration, of the total population in the administrative area, including the population covered by TV programs from central, provincial, prefectural cities and county TV stations.

Comprehensive Coverage Rate of Wireless TV means the share of population who can receive TV programs transmitted with short-wave, medium-wave, FM and other radio transmission technologies in the target area, calculated in line with the Statistical Standard and Method on Television and Radio Coverage of Population established by the National Radio and Television Administration, of the total population in the administrative area, including the population covered by wireless television programs from central, provincial, prefectural cities and county TV stations.

Access Rate of Cable TVs refers to the percentage of households which can watch television programs through the cable broadcasting and television transmission network (including cable TV households receiving analog signals and digital signals, excluding collective subscribers such as hotels, companies and entities, office buildings), to the total households in the administrative area.

Actual Number of Cable TV Subscribers means the number of subscribers watching television programs through the cable broadcasting and television transmission network.

Sports

Sports Industry refers to the collection of production activities that provide the society with various sports products (goods and services) and sports related products.

Sports Venues refer to sports building facilities, including necessary ancillary functional rooms, for public welfare or operating purpose, specially used for sports training, games and fitness activities, and with certain investment.

Number of Graded Athletes means the number of athletes formally granted with the title of graded athlete upon examination. Grades of athletes include international master sportsman, national master sportsman, grade-I athlete, grade-II athlete, grade-III athlete and juvenile athlete.

Number of Graded Referees means the number of referees formally granted with the title of graded referees upon examination. Grades of referees include international referee, national referee, grade-I referee, grade-II referee and grade-III referee.

Medals Won by Athletes mean the number of gold, silver and copper medals won by athletes of Beijing in world games, Asian games and national games.